

This event happens on R-day and requires New Cadets to memorize a simple sentence, step up to a line and report to the Cadet in the Red Sash while rendering a proper military salute. You can get a jump on this task by memorizing this line now. Do not say "Sir/Ma'am," instead use the correct term for the gender of the Cadet in the Red Sash you are speaking to.

An example of USMA 2015 New Cadets reporting during R-day. New Cadets are often surprised to learn that there is more than one Cadet in the Red Sash. Visit the one you are directed to, or you will get the opportunity to meet several of them!

Class of 2024 New Cadet reporting during COVID. Precautions such as a mask and a plastic barrier are used to keep cadets safe.
